

My first term experience in my new school, the Redemption College

When I had my first day in this school, I saw that it has good buildings, good chairs and tables and good black boards. They have qualified teachers, classroom fans, light, etc. But the problem is that they don't have good water to drink. The teachers teach us well, they know how to teach the students so that they will understand. A good teacher is a teacher who knows the way to teach so that the students will understand his teaching.

I like the school because they close the gate at 7:40, and if you have not gone in by that time, you will not be allowed to enter the school. The reason why this makes me happy is that by doing so, the school can make one to become a serious student. In terms of exercise, they play football, whereby males and females, junior and senior students will play together. They have a good football field, and they have a handball and volleyball field. I like exercising my body and to wear sport wear. I'm a member of the Yellow House, so they put me in that colour during PE. The school is made up of four houses: The Green House, (Olive) the Red House (Diamond), the Yellow House (Gold) and the Blue House (Orchard). The teachers always encourage us to work hard. The teachers are not rude to the students, they teach when it's time to teach and they play when it's time to play. The students play and read together with them and we don't fight and I like the school.
